Quick Bites

Plantation: Malaysia July CPO export tax raised to 6.0%

The Malaysian Customs Department has raised the CPO export tax for July to 6.0%, up from 5.5% for June, after gazetting the price of CPO at RM2,730.51/MT. CPO export tax starts from 4.5% for prices above RM2,250/MT to a maximum of 8.5%. Meanwhile, independent cargo surveyor Societe Generale de Surveillance (SGS) estimated a 3.4% mom decline in palm oil exports for the first fifteen days of June.

(Source: Bloomberg)

Comments: The 0.5% point increase in export tax for July is slightly negative for upstream players without refining and downstream operations, slightly as the impact is expected to be just for a month as CPO prices have weakened since. Bursa Malaysia 3-M futures traded to a high of RM2,779/MT in March but closed at RM2,480/MT yesterday. Despite higher soybean oil premium, sentiment seems to have weakened with soft export demand and expected recovery in yields in the next few months. We maintain our NEUTRAL sector rating based on a CPO ASP assumption of RM2,400/MT. Stock recommendations are also maintained, including HOLD for pure upstream players IJMP and HAPL, and SELL for GENP, which is expanding its downstream operations.

US stocks retreat amid tepid growth outlook, Brexit concerns

US stocks erased gains in a late-day collapse after the Federal Reserve held pat on interest rates, with mixed American growth and a sluggish global economy heightening concern the effectiveness of central-bank stimulus has reached its limits. The S&P 500 Index fell 0.2% to 2,071.50. The Dow slipped 34.65 points (0.2%) to 17,640.17.

Fed reins in rate-hike path as Brexit cited in latest pause

Fewer Federal Reserve officials expect the central bank to raise interest rates more than once this year, as policy makers painted a mixed picture of a US economy where growth is picking up while job gains slow. Britain's June 23 referendum on membership of the European Union was also "one of the uncertainties that we discussed and that factored into today's decision," Chair Janet Yellen said after the Federal Open Market Committee voted unanimously to leave rates steady.

US factory production falls more than forecast on auto output

Factory production fell more than forecast in May, reflecting declining output of vehicles and business equipment that show US manufacturing is still hobbled by weak global demand. The 0.4% decline in output followed a revised 0.2% advance in April, data from the Federal Reserve showed. The median estimate surveyed by Bloomberg forecast a 0.1% decline.

Rising fuel pushes up US producer prices for second month

The rebound in fuel costs pushed up US wholesale prices in May for a second month, overshadowing a drop in pricing power more broadly that signals inflation will take time to move toward the Federal Reserve's goal. The producer-price index gained 0.4%, more than forecast of +0.3%, after a 0.2% increase the prior month, a Labor Department report showed.

UK campaigns lay out post-Brexit visions in dominance push

The campaigns for and against keeping the UK in the European Union laid out opposing visions of life outside the bloc as dueling ahead of next week's referendum enters its final stretch. Chancellor of the Exchequer George Osborne said a £30bn (US$43bn) budget "black hole" would open up due to reduced trade and investment.

New Zealand economy expands faster than forecast on construction

New Zealand's economic growth was stronger than economists forecast last quarter as construction rose the most in two years and population pressure increased demand for health-care services. GDP grew 0.7% qoq in 1Q16, slowing from 0.9% in 4Q15, Statistics New Zealand said. The expansion exceeded the 0.5% median forecast surveyed by Bloomberg.

Singapore home sales climb to most in 10 months on new projects

Singapore developers sold the most homes in 10 months in May, helped by the successful marketing of new projects as prices have been declining since September 2013. Developers sold 1,056 units last month, compared with a revised 748 in April, according to data by the Urban Redevelopment Authority. That's the highest number of homes since July last year.

Oil dips 6th day as US drillers seen tapping uncompleted wells

Oil fell a sixth day as concern prices near $50 a barrel will trigger new US production outweighed government data that showed the nation's supplies fell. Brent for August settlement fell US$0.86 (1.7%) to US$48.97 a barrel.
