Trump just let the world know his Nafta tactic could be a bluff

On Monday, Donald Trump said he may need to put the U.S. on the brink of withdrawing from Nafta to get his renegotiation objectives met. Any Nafta party can pull out of the agreement with six-months' written notice. "I believe that you will probably have to at least start the termination process before a fair deal can be arrived at," Trump told reporters.

May under pressure from labour and EU as brexit talks resume

European negotiators are pushing May to reveal her hand, while the opposition Labour Party has made a bid to lure May's critics to their side. Labour's announcement that it wants Britain to stay in the EU's single market and customs union for up to four years after it leaves the bloc looks set to strengthen the hand of anti-Brexit Conservatives for a softer split.

Singapore home sales surge even as foreign demand subdued

After years of declines, Singapore's home sales are on a roll, even as purchases by foreign buyers have remained muted. Stringent stamp duties levied by the government have had the intended effect of damping speculative foreign demand, with foreign buyers accounting for just 6% of purchases in the first half, data from Cushman & Wakefield show.

Kuroda cautions that Japan can't keep current growth rate

Bank of Japan Governor Haruhiko Kuroda pledged to forge on with very accommodative monetary policy as he warned that his inflation target remains distant and the current pace of growth in the world's third-largest economy looks unsustainable. Kuroda also said the BOJ's yield-curve control program has been working quite well and that he doesn't see a need to adjust it at present.

Gold jumps on haven demand as N. Korea lobs missile

Gold rallied to the highest level this year after North Korea fired a ballistic missile over Japan, boosting demand for havens amid escalating tensions between Pyongyang and the United States. "A missile passing over Japan is an unprecedented, grave and serious threat to Japan's safety," Japan's Chief Cabinet Secretary Yoshihide Suga told a news conference.
